

ment made by the War Department. Gen. Bliss reported today that he had authorized Maj. McNamee, in direct command at Arriola, to move the prisoners to Marfa, Tex.

Report From Gen. Bliss.

Gen. Bliss' report on the situation conditions of the border conditions. "Still impossible to obtain the number of federalists here. Am organizing them to their companies and regiments; will report exact number as soon as known. The account of the great distance from railroad great difficulty in securing supplies, together with the fact that they are immediately in the hands of the federalists, recommended that all prisoners be forwarded to Marfa for movement to such place as may be designated. Great number federalist horses here; am purchasing supplies necessary immediately.

"Gen. Mercedo has furnished certificate in case of Gen. Manilla, have liberated him. Gens. Salazar and Orozco with few followers apparently made escape from Ojinaga early in night, and were not seen by our patrol. Estimated federalists on hand, 2,000."

The Red Cross has directed that its agents at Marfa co-operate with the military in establishing the Mexicans in a detention camp there.

Rebels Rule on Border.

The defeat of the federalists at Ojinaga leaves the entire Mexican border under the control of the rebels, with the exception of Nuevo Laredo. Constitutionalists here said today that Gen. Villa will pay no attention to this force, but will move immediately on Torreon and then on Saltillo and Monterrey. A force of rebels is holding the federalists at Laredo, capital of Tamaulipas, to establish civil government there. Word received from there was to the effect that later he will go to Chihuahua city to establish civil government there.

Constitutionalists here say that Gen. Villa is indulgent at reports that he contemplates any disloyalty to Gen. Carranza, and that he will try to capture the presidency of Mexico. They are confident that Villa reported his capture of Ojinaga immediately to Gen. Carranza as showing his loyalty.

Business Men Warned.

Word was received by the rebel agents here today that the Aguilar Oil Company and the Mexican Petroleum Company have disobeyed constitutionalists' orders that they furnish no oil to the federalists. The federalists are threatening to haul federal troops there, and that it is probable that punishment will be meted out to them.

Men doing business in Mexico have been informed by the constitutionalists if they get control of the Mexican government no acts of Huerta, either legislative or executive, will be recognized as legal. This is taken to apply particularly to loans made to Huerta. They cite as precedents refusals of southern states to honor Huerta's bonds. The federalists are threatening to haul federal troops there, and that it is probable that punishment will be meted out to them.

The hospital ship Solace has left Vera Cruz for Tampico, where Rear Admiral Fletcher has given no explanation of the movement. Fighting is expected, however, in the Tampico district. The cruiser Pittsburgh has moved south from Mazatlan to San Blas.

TWO CAVALRYMEN WOUNDED.

Three Other American Negro Soldiers in Fracas at Boundary.

EL PASO, Tex., January 12.—Rebel soldiers at Naco, Sonora, yesterday shot and wounded John Bryce, private in the 10th Cavalry (colored), and later shot across the international boundary line, wounding Trumpeter Warren, 10th Cavalry. After shooting Warren the Mexicans dragged him across the line, arresting him. Bryce was in Naco when shot.

Three other American negro soldiers went to Bryce's assistance when he was shot, but were placed under arrest and threatened with death if they resisted. The Americans were unarmed.

Bryce was talking with a Mexican woman when he was attacked. His wound is considered serious. Warren was shot in the head.

The Mexicans released the American soldiers when Capt. Tompkins of the 10th Cavalry demanded it.

BACK IN MEXICO CITY.

Nelson O'Shaughnessy Returns From Lind Conference.

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, January 12.—Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American charge d'affaires, reached the federal capital early today. He suffered no inconvenience in consequence of the fifteen-hour wait at Cuernavaca while the train was cleared after a freight train had been burned. Detachments of federal troops scoured the country in the neighborhood of the scene of the wreck in search of the rebels, but without success.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy declined to discuss the nature of his conference at Vera Cruz with John Lind, personal representative of President Wilson.

Fere Marquette Train Wrecked.

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., January 12.—Fere Marquette passenger train No. 1, from Chicago to Grand Rapids, was wrecked near here this forenoon, when the engine was derailed by sand and snow which had been blown on the track. William Grandow, engineer, was fatally scalded and his fireman seriously hurt. The 150 passengers escaped injury. It was said the track would not be cleared for traffic for several hours.

MEXICAN FEDERALISTS AND NON-COMBATANTS AT AND NEAR THE BATTLEFIELD OF OJINAGA.

First photograph received from the scene of the battle of Ojinaga, showing the federalists watching the approach of Huerta forces, as slowly, but surely and steadily, they hammered the Huerta forces before them, under command of Gen. Villa.

Women and children, refugees from the battlefield of Ojinaga, camping near Presidio, Tex., to which place they went in search of safety and food. The refugees had all been disarmed, and sentries of United States soldiers were thrown about the encampment.

READY TO RESUME OFFICIAL DUTIES

President Wilson, Greatly Benefited by Vacation, on Way to Washington.

HAS PREPARED A DRAFT OF MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

Expects to Confer With Party Leaders Regarding Legislation and Other Matters.

ON BOARD PRESIDENT WILSON'S SPECIAL WEST POINT, Ga., January 12.

President Wilson journeyed homeward today, ready to take up the problems of his administration. He looked physically refreshed by his vacation of nearly three weeks at Pass Christian, Miss., and appeared to be in better health than at any other time since his inauguration.

The president told members of his party that he liked the gulf coast and might go there again for a winter vacation. His desire for isolation was courteously observed by the citizens of the little village during his stay there, and he was not annoyed by a horde of callers, such as daily seeks to see him at the White House on official business. Aside from John Lind, his personal representative in Mexico, the only person who came to Pass Christian to see the chief executive on business was Mrs. Margaret Cardwell of Beaumont, Tex., and although she did not see him, she was a note from Mr. Wilson, a note from her reached him.

Mrs. Cardwell said she had made the journey from Texas with financial difficulty and sought justice in her suit against a railroad of that state, from which she claimed damages for the death of her husband, a conductor. She said she had failed to get her case before an unprescribed tribunal. The president said he would see to it that she was not shorted.

Cooney Hamsborough's Message.

The president had another joke at the expense of Dr. Grayson today. The latter received a telegram from his fellow-townsmen, Cooney Hamsborough, telling him that if the president's train would stop at Culpeper, Va., "the whole town" would be at the station to meet him. Several weeks ago when Dr. Grayson did have an ambition of his youth gratified in having a fast train stop at his town of Culpeper no one was there to greet the presidential party except Hamsborough, an odd character whose frequently broken limbs and recurrent bruises Dr. Grayson has for many years attended.

The president's aid regretfully telegraphed his friend that the train would pass through Culpeper at 3 o'clock tomorrow morning and therefore could not stop.

Bids Farewell to Southland.

PASS CHRISTIAN, Miss., January 12.—After nearly three weeks of rest and recreation at a little cottage near the gulf coast here, President Wilson last

ONLY TWO JUDGES LEFT

Terms of Three in Municipal Court Expire and Business Is Piling Up.

Judges George C. Aukam and L. C. Strider, composed the judiciary of the Municipal Court today, disposing of as much of the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

ONLY TWO JUDGES LEFT

Terms of Three in Municipal Court Expire and Business Is Piling Up.

Judges George C. Aukam and L. C. Strider, composed the judiciary of the Municipal Court today, disposing of as much of the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.

Judge Aukam stated today that many cases docketed will of necessity be postponed, as it will not be physically possible for two men to hear and adjudicate all of them. Congestion of business, Judge Aukam said, will be a great amount of work between his and the court's business as was possible. The three other judges, whose terms expired at midnight last night, were not present, and as no judges have been named to replace them, the entire work of the court will, until January 18, fall on the shoulders of the two judges remaining. On that date the term of Judge Strider will expire, leaving only Judge Aukam to discharge the care of the large volume of business transacted by that court.